Independent Auditors' Report

To the Members of
Westwood Capital, LLC
(A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Westwood Capital Holdings, LLC)

We have audited the accompanying statement of financial condition of Westwood Capital, LLC (a wholly-owned subsidiary of Westwood Capital Holdings, LLC) as of December 31, 2007, and the related statements of operations, changes in member's equity and cash flows, for the year then ended that you are filing pursuant to Rule 17a-5 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Westwood Capital, LLC as of December 31, 2007, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the year then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in Schedules I and II is presented for the purpose of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by Rule 17a-5 under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in our audit of the basic financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects when considered in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

WESTWOOD CAPITAL, LLC
(A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Westwood Capital Holdings, LLC)
Notes to Financial Statements
December 31, 2007

1. Nature of Activities and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies:

This summary of significant accounting policies of Westwood Capital, LLC (the "Company") is presented to assist in the understanding of the Company's financial statements. The financial statements and notes are representations of the Company's management who is responsible for their integrity and objectivity. These accounting policies conform to accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the financial statements.

Nature of Activities:

The Company was incorporated as a limited liability company on May 19, 1995 and will continue in existence until May 19, 2025. The Company's broker-dealer registration, pursuant to Section 15(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, became effective on November 15, 1996 along with its membership in the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. now known as FINRA.

The Company engages in investment banking activities, specializing in the private placement of securitized debt issues. Investment banking activities also include financial advisory services and mergers and acquisition advisory services.

The Company is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Westwood Capital Holdings, LLC, (the "Parent").

Revenue Recognition:

Investment banking fee income is generally recognized when the related transaction closes.

Use of Estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents:

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Company considers all highly liquid instruments with a maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

1. Nature of Activities and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, continued:

Receivables from Clients:

Receivables from clients are stated at the amount management expects to collect from outstanding balances. Management provides for probable uncollectible amounts through a charge to operations and a credit to an allowance for doubtful accounts based on its assessment of the current status of individual accounts. Balances that are still outstanding after management has used reasonable collection efforts are written off through a charge to the allowance for doubtful accounts and a credit to receivables from clients.

Property and Equipment:

Property and equipment are stated at cost. Maintenance and repairs are expensed as incurred. When assets are retired or otherwise disposed of, their cost and related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts and the resulting gain or loss is included in operations. Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets which range from three to ten years.

Income Taxes:

The Company, a limited liability company, is not required to prepare a provision for federal and state income taxes in the accompanying financial statements as each member is responsible for reporting income or loss, based on their respective share of income and expenses, as reported for income tax purposes.

2. Due from Clients:

Due from clients represents unbilled reimbursable client expenses and fees for services performed.

3. Property and Equipment:

Property and equipment consisted of the following:

Furniture and fixtures	$ 114,300
Office and computer equipment	173,175
Leasehold improvements	127,235
	414,710
Less accumulated depreciation and amortization	(244,575)
	$ 170,135

4. Member's Equity:

Pursuant to the Limited Liability Company Operating Agreement, income, losses and cash distributions are allocated to the members based on their ownership percentages.

5. Net Capital Requirements:

The Company is subject to the Securities and Exchange Commission Uniform Net Capital Rule 15c3-1, which requires the maintenance of minimum net capital and requires that the ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital, both as defined, shall not exceed 15 to 1. At December 31, 2007, the Company had net capital of -$50,933, which was $69,147 below its required net capital of $18,214. The Company's ratio of aggregate indebtedness to net capital was -5.36 to 1.

On January 11, 2008, cash was collected from a client receivable balance, that was classified as a nonallowable asset at December 31, 2007, that put the Company back into compliance with minimum net capital rules.

The Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Accounting Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5 includes a comment on a material inadequacy relating to the computation of net capital. A copy of this report is currently available at the principal office of the SEC and the SEC regional office in New York, New York.

6. Related Party Transactions:

Employee Loan Receivable:

Employee loan receivable represents funds advanced to an employee of the Company. The loan bears interest at 10%, is unsecured and due on demand.

6. Related Party Transactions, continued:

Due From Employees:

Due from employees represents funds advanced to employees of the Company. The advances are non-interest bearing, unsecured and due on demand.

Transactions with a Related Party:

Revenues include approximately $900,000 of fees from an entity whose management includes one of the Company's principal members. At December 31, 2007, due from clients includes approximately $100,000 due from this entity.

7. Commitments and Contingencies:

Commitments:

The Company has an operating lease agreement to rent office space which expires December 31, 2014 and includes scheduled increases in rental payments. The excess of the straight line rent expense recognized for financial reporting purposes over actual required payments is expensed in the financial statements. A $97,750 letter of credit which is collateralized by a $103,000 certificate of deposit at December 31, 2007 collateralizes the lease. The Company rents desk space to an individual on a month to month basis. Rental income was $44,000 for 2007, which is recognized as an offset against rent expense.

The following is a schedule of future annual minimum payments as of December 31, 2007:

For the years ending December 31,

2008	$ 278,960
2009	287,254
2010	295,797
2011	304,596
2012	313,658
Thereafter	655,601
Total minimum lease payments	$ 2,135,866

WESTWOOD CAPITAL, LLC
(A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Westwood Capital Holdings, LLC)
Notes to Financial Statements, continued
December 31, 2007

7. Commitments and Contingencies, continued:

Contingencies:

The Company is from time-to-time involved in certain legal actions and customer disputes arising in the ordinary course of business. In the opinion of management, the outcome of such actions will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position or results of operations.

8. Major Client:

In 2007, three clients represented approximately 77% of the Company's investment banking fees.

9. Concentration of Credit Risk:

The Company provides credit, in the normal course of business, to its clients. These clients are not concentrated in any particular industry or specific geographic region. The Company performs ongoing credit evaluations of the clients and maintains allowances for potential credit losses which, when realized, have been within the range of management's expectations. The Company generally does not require collateral with regard to extending credit to clients. At December 31, 2007, three clients accounted for approximately 78% of due from clients.

The Company maintains its cash accounts primarily with a bank located in New York and in a money market mutual fund. The total cash balances are insured by the FDIC up to $100,000 per bank. The Company has cash balances on deposit at December 31, 2007 that exceeded the balance insured by the FDIC by approximately $222,000.

10. Retirement Plan:

The Company has a profit sharing plan covering all eligible employees. Contributions are determined at management's discretion and are allocated based upon a matching formula and a non-elective contribution formula for all eligible participants. Contribution expense for 2007 was $27,121.

Independent Auditors' Report on Internal Accounting Control Required by SEC Rule 17a-5

To the Members of
Westwood Capital, LLC
(A Wholly-Owned Subsidiary of Westwood Capital Holdings, LLC)

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of Westwood Capital, LLC (the "Company"), as of and for the year ended December 31, 2007, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Also, as required by rule 17a-5(g)(1) of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), we have made a study of the practices and procedures followed by the Company including consideration of control activities for safeguarding securities. This study included tests of such practices and procedures that we considered relevant to the objectives stated in rule 17a-5(g) in making the periodic computations of aggregate indebtedness (or aggregate debits) and net capital under rule 17a-3(a)(11) and for determining compliance with the exemptive provisions of rule 15c3-3. Because the Company does not carry securities accounts for customers or perform custodial functions relating to customer securities, we did not review the practices and procedures followed by the Company in any of the following:

1. Making quarterly securities examinations, counts, verifications, and comparisons and recordation of differences required by rule 17a-13
2. Complying with the requirements for prompt payment for securities under Section 8 of Federal Reserve Regulation T of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

The management of the Company is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal control and the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph. In fulfilling this responsibility, estimates and judgments by management are required to assess the expected benefits and related costs of controls and of the practices and procedures referred to in the preceding paragraph and to assess whether those practices and procedures can be expected to achieve the SEC's above-mentioned objectives. Two of the objectives of internal control and the practices and procedures are to provide management with reasonable but not absolute assurance that assets for which the Company has responsibility are safeguarded against loss from unauthorized use or disposition and that transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization and recorded properly to permit the preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Rule 17a-5(g) lists additional objectives of the practices and procedures listed in the preceding paragraph.

Because of inherent limitations in internal control and the practices and procedures referred to above, error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projection of any evaluation of them to future periods is subject to the risk that they may become inadequate because of changes in conditions or that the effectiveness of their design and operation may deteriorate.

A control deficiency exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect misstatements on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a control deficiency, or combination of control deficiencies, that adversely affects the entity's ability to initiate, authorize, record, process, or report financial data reliably in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles such that there is more than a remote likelihood that a misstatement of the entity's financial statements that is more than inconsequential will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

A material weakness is a significant deficiency, or combination of significant deficiencies, that results in more than a remote likelihood that a material misstatement of the financial statements will not be prevented or detected by the entity's internal control.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first and second paragraphs and would not necessarily identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses. However, we identified the following deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be a material weakness, as discussed above. The Company's procedures to identify unpaid expenses incurred for 2007 were not adequate resulting in a $71,303 adjustment to the financial statements and the fourth quarter focus report and a $69,147 net capital deficiency. These conditions were considered in determining the nature, timing, and extent of the procedures performed in our audit of the financial statements of Westwood Capital, LLC as of and for the year ended December 31, 2007, and this report does not affect our report thereon dated February 27, 2008.

We understand that practices and procedures that accomplish the objectives referred to in the second paragraph of this report are considered by the SEC to be adequate for its purposes in accordance with the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and related regulations, and that practices and procedures that do not accomplish such objectives in all material respects indicate a material inadequacy for such purposes. Based on this understanding and on our study, except as discussed in the preceding paragraph, we believe that the Company's practices and procedures, as described in the second paragraph of this report, were adequate at December 31, 2007, to meet the SEC's objectives.

This report is intended solely for the information and use of the members of management, the SEC, the National Association of Securities Dealers and other regulatory agencies that rely on rule 17a-5(g) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in their regulation of registered brokers and dealers, and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.
